Pretty Home Wedding.
Dickerson-Northam
At high noon on Wednesday, September 11th, Hopeland, the home of Mr. William R. Northam, near Modestown, was the scene of a quiet but pretty marriage.
A wedding breakfast preceded the nuptials, served to the bridal party and to relatives and friends assembled to witness the happy event. After the merriment around the festive board had waned and the hands of the clock pointed to 12 m. the bridal party marched into the parlor, beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers, where Mr. J. D. Dickerson and Miss Annie Custis Northam were united in holy wedlock by Rev. C. S. Fletcher, of Fort Thomas, Kentucky, a cousin of the groom.
The beautiful bride, attired in silk traveling suit of champagne with hat to match, was attended by her niece, Miss Mabel Northam, as maid of honor, who wore white. She is the daughter of the late George J. Northam and a most lovable and accomplished young lady. The groom, wearing the conventional black, entered the parlor upon the arm of Mr. Philip Shackelford, of Suffolk. The groom, formerly of this county, is now a popular and prosperous merchant of Suffolk, Va.
The happy couple left on the south bound train for Old Point, thence to Baltimore and the Northern cities. On their return they will be at home to their friends at Suffolk, their future home.

Uzzle Convicted, Burton and Conquest on Trial.

The trial of Uzzle, which began on Friday of last week, on an indictment for shooting with intent to maim &c. Garland Belote, during the late race troubles in Onancock, was convicted on Saturday of the offence. The verdict of the jury, reached soon after the case was submitted to them, was that Uzzle be confined three years in the penitentiary. A motion for a new trial made by his counsel, Hon. J. J. Jeffries and Judge Wilcox, of Norfolk, the Commonwealth being represented by Mr. S. James Turlington, is now pending before Judge Blackstone.
On Wednesday of this week, Samuel Burton and Sylvanus Conquest were arraigned before Judge Blackstone, on the charge of the murder of John Topping, who was shot and fatally wounded, when the hack conveying the mail was held up and fired upon by parties in front of Burton's store on the night of the 10th inst. Topping has since died of the wounds received by him. In the cases of Burton and Conquest, motions for change of venue and continuance were promptly overruled by Judge Blackstone, and the following jury, of citizens of Northampton, was empanelled for the trial of Burton and Conquest Wednesday afternoon: Sydney S. White, Arthur D. Addison, Abel W. Bradford, M. S. Wilson, Robt. S. Trower, Wm. J. Simpkins, Wm. P. Charnock, Wm. M. Upshur, Jos. C. Tyson, John W. Stevenson, Chas. C. Reed and Nathaniel J. Churn.
The evidence submitted to the jury, though for the most part circumstantial, points very clearly to Burton and Conquest, it not perpetrators of the crime, subject to the penalty which the law imposes in it. Argument in the case began on Friday morning and had not been concluded at the time of going to press on that day.
Dickinson's Card to the Public.
We, the undersigned, having purchased the entire stock of general merchandise, millinery and good will of the executors of the late Mr. W. S. Dickinson, will continue the business at the same stand, under the same name and under the same broad lines, always characteristic of this store. It shall be our aim to follow as closely as possible in the footsteps of our predecessor, which has made this business so successful. Our aim shall be, not only to keep this store fully up to the highest standard it has always enjoyed but being thoroughly familiar with a great many improvements contemplated by Mr. Dickinson, we shall take up the thread and with the aid of all modern improvements and advantages, push them to an accomplished end. We will take charge of the business on Monday, Sept. 2d, and extend to the public at large, a most cordial invitation to give us a large share of their patronage, assuring them they will at all times receive a hearty welcome. The purchasers are all home Pocomoke people, Mess. Smullen Bros. having all their lives been closely identified with every vital interest and improvement of this town and community and are up-to-date, progressive and successful business men. Mr. Thomas F. Hargis, the other member of the firm, having been closely identified with Mr. Dickinson for the past ten years, is thoroughly conversant with all the needs and details of this business.
Together we will bend our every effort to give the public the most up-to-date service of any store on the Peninsula. The same corps of sales-ladies and gentlemen will be found at their respective posts to welcome you as in the past. We expect to give you something startling in our advertisement of next week's issue of this paper and will kindly ask that you look for same and give it due consideration.
Yours to command,
Julius J. Smullen,
Albert E. Smullen,
John T. Smullen,
Thos. F. Hargis,
Trading as W. S. Dickinson & Son,
Pocomoke City, Md.
The Barrel Question.
Mr. Editor:—I noticed in a recent issue of your paper some letters from Chicago commission merchants, in reference to barrels. I took a trip through the West just a few days before these letters were written with the view of looking after the barrels I did not find any of my latest patent barrels at Chicago, consequently I could not talk to them about the package as they had not had any, and this was the funny part of it. Last spring I sent them a sample package and I saw they were well pleased and all of some of them expressed with that sort of package. Leaving Chicago I went to several other Western cities where our potatoes were shipped. I called upon the largest buyers who had been using my latest patented barrel and every man I saw was perfectly pleased. They said, they had not had a bad barrel of mine since I came home. I suggest that the barrel manufacturers of the Eastern Shore make a good barrel as possible and have them all one size. I found on this trip that poorly made packages and small packages are very injurious. See to it farmer that you do not ship in these small and poorly made packages. Mark you. The right will always come on top.

Obituary.

Annie Sewell, oldest child of John S. and Leticia B. Gaskins, was born April 26th, 1858, and died on August 21, 1907. She was married to Mr. John R. Thomas on July 28th, 1875. Eleven children were born of this union, ten of which survive with the husband to mourn her loss. The children are as follows: Mrs. Emma Allen, Mrs. Anna Bloom, Miss Sula, Mrs. Mary Northam, John, Edward R., Walter, Frank, Laura and George. She professed religion at the early age of twelve and joined Pocomoke Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of which church she lived a faithful and consistent member through life. Sister Thomas in her family was gentle, tender and devoted to all who could claim her affections. In her social relations she was kind, considerate and friendly; she was quiet in her manner, sincere in her expressions and sympathetic in her nature. She loved her church and pastor. He was sure to find a pleasant greeting and a warm welcome whenever he called. She loved her Sunday School class and was loved by her scholars. She was held in high esteem by the entire community in which she lived. Her life was transparent and beautiful, a benediction poured forth, a life that glorified God.
When she fell asleep it could be said of her that one of the best and noblest of women had answered the roll call of Heaven. The shadows of sorrow have passed away with her and suffering have entered into the joys of the bright unclouded day on the other shore. She has left to her children a heritage of a pure life and a spotless character. She has heard the welcome plaudit, well done.
"I cannot say, and I will not say, That she is dead, she is just away. With a cheery smile and wave of the hand. She has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair, 'T needs must be, since she lingers there."
And you—O you, who the wildest yearns, For the quick step and the glad returns, Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of there, as the love of here, Think of her still as the same I say: She is not dead—she is just away." John D. Hosier.

She has left to her children a heritage of a pure life and a spotless character. She has heard the welcome plaudit, well done.
"I cannot say, and I will not say, That she is dead, she is just away. With a cheery smile and wave of the hand. She has wandered into an unknown land. And left us dreaming how very fair, 'T needs must be, since she lingers there."
And you—O you, who the wildest yearns, For the quick step and the glad returns, Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of there, as the love of here, Think of her still as the same I say: She is not dead—she is just away." John D. Hosier.
